PROJECTS

Novel Outliner (www.github.com/masonmike2001/novel-outliner)

2026

Developed and deployed a Spring Boot web application using REST APIs to generate modular story structures and calculate chapter word-count targets.

- Designed a dual-PostgreSQL container architecture using Podman to isolate static schemas from temporary session data.
- Built secure Spring MVC endpoints for session-specific payload handling and data protection.
- Reengineered a Thymeleaf application with a React/TypeScript frontend to improve interactive calculation and display.

Obsidian AI Plugin (www.github.com/masonmike2001/astrollama)

2026

Developed an offline Obsidian plugin using TypeScript and the Ollama API for local AI conversations and note generation.

- Designed plugin architecture integrating Obsidian events with local LLM inference.
- Built a prompt workflow engine supporting configurable models, context folders, and automated wiki templates.
- Engineered a local-first design eliminating external API dependencies while improving privacy and latency.
